Fall Foray, Sept. 15 – 18, 2011. Quaker Hill Lakeside, McCall, ID

Lunch at Last Chance Campground. SIMA members identified 82 species. Weather cooperated and rained after the daily forays.

Elinor Chehey took over the cooking from Bryan and Sue Poland this fall. Sue took a position with the State of Nevada as director of Agricultural Education. The foray came during the transition time. We hope to see Bryan and Sue next spring.

We had several new mushroom dishes to taste at the foray. We gathered enough Polyozellus multiplex for everyone to take a taste. We don't find this mushroom very often, usually in small amounts.

We also tasted Catathalasma ventricosum, a dense mushroom with a mild flavor and a pleasing texture when cooked. It is worth eating.

Sad news. SIMA lost a dear member with the unexpected death of Dennie Young in September. He and LaVerne were at the fall foray in McCall.

Dennie loved the outdoors, and he was an accomplished hunter and fisherman. He also did a great job chasing and gathering mushrooms.

That smile says it all. He and LaVerne officially joined SIMA in 2006.
